SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT Virgil T. Blossom (top) tells newsmen in Little Rock, Ark., that the fall term at Central High School will not start until Sept. 8. He said that the opening was delayed to remove the "shortage of time" pressure on both the Supreme Court and the Arkansas Legislature in the controversy over admission of Negro students. At bottom, Negro teenagers await service at a luncheonette in Oklahoma City. They are seeking equal rights to be served in a passive resistance move.

INTEGRATION SHOWDOWN

Enlist Civilians as Deputy Marshals

GREAT MILLS, Md. (AP)— Joan Elaine Groves, centre of a federal court controversy over segregation, stepped from a Negro school bus in this southern Maryland community today and quietly entered the Great Mills
High School as its first Negro pupil.

Joan was admitted to the senior class at Great Mills High under protest by the St. Mary's County school board, which is appealing a federal district court
judge's order that the high school
be integrated this year.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—
The federal government enlisted civilians Wednesday to serve as deputy marshals at Little Rock Central high school is ordered once again to open its doors to Negro pupils.

Integration ordered by the courts began peacefully meanwhile at several other schools in the southern states although trouble was reported at two points.

At Van Buren, Ark., Negroes
went to high school without apparent incident Wednesday. But Wednesday night 16-year-old Larry Bell said he and two other Negroes left the building during the morning because white boys in their classes threatened to beat them after school.

Bell said neither he nor seven other Negroes enrolled planned to return to school today. School officials refused to comment.

SHOW KLAN BANNER

The other demonstration marching limited racial mixing in the south occurred at Greensboro,
N.C. A small group displaying a Ku Klux Klan banner and a Confederate flag met at a school.
Even so, five Negro children,
three of whom entered the school
last year, attended the opening session without trouble.

Application blanks for deputy U.S. marshals did not mention the racial situation, but one applicant
said there was no doubt he was

signing for duty at Central if it reopens as an integrated school.
The U.S. Supreme Court meets Sept. 11, four days before the school opens, to hear the Little Rock school board's plea for a 30-month "breathing spell." The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will ask that integration be resumed
at once.

At Fort Smith, just across the Arkansas River from Van Buren,
two elementary schools admitted
Negroes. The Arkansas communities of Hoxie, Fayetteville and Charleston also went ahead
peaceably with integration Wednesday.

NO INCIDENTS
Four Kentucky high schools began mixing the races for the first time. There were no incidents as two Negroes attended white schools in Charlotte, one of the cities in which North Carolina's first school integration took place
last year.

Integration moved forward a step in one Virginia case but failed to advance in another.
U.S. district judge Walter Hoffman rejected the Norfolk school board's plea for a delay until next year in desegregation. He said he may reconsider his decision if the U.S. Supreme Court grants a delay at Little Rock or a review of that case.

A member of the Arlington
County school board, adjacent to Washington, D.C., told another federal judge that six Negroes'
applications to attend a white
school were rejected because of low achievement.

Disorders occurred at Birmingham, Ala., as a result of fears that Negroes would try to enroll
at a white high school, but no Negroes attempted to register at that school or at any other white school. A policeman was slugged
in the demonstration, one student was hit on the head with a stick and three men were arrested. All are white.

Cost of Living Soars in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—In the largest rise in more than a year, the consumer price index went up a half point between July 1 and
Aug. 1 to equal the record high,
high.

The increase from 124.7 to 125.2
equaled a half-point rise between May and June of last year. The index is based on 1949 prices
equalling 100, and stood at 125.2
last April.

The last previous month in which the index rose was exceeded came between September and October of 1956, when the increase was four-fifths of a point.
The July-August rise of this year amounted to two-fifths of one per cent in percentage terms.
The Aug. 1 index, announced today by the bureau of statistics,
compares with 122.6 a year earlier.

Food prices rose one per cent
during the month, the food index going from 121.4 to 122.6. In line with the usual July-August seasonal increase.
Higher shelter costs and miscellaneous "other" expenses also went up, while clothing and household operating costs eased
slightly.
The index of average wages

and salaries at June 1 — intermediate — rose to 164.7 from 163.8 a month earlier. At June 1 last year, it was 157.9. This index is based on 1949 wage levels
equalling 100.

TOMATOES UP
In the food section of the consumer price index, most fresh vegetables experienced seasonal declines but fresh tomato prices increased instead of undergoing
the usual seasonal drop.

Apple prices reflected initial marketings of the new crop, while imported bananas and oranges
were up. Beef prices continued to moderate slightly, while pork prices edged up. Eggs were down
by four cents a dozen.
The shelter index rose from 138.4 to 139.1, reflecting increases
in rents, mortgage interest rates and property taxes. A fractional increase in the "other" commodities and services index from 130.4 to 130.6 resulted from small price increases in a variety of commodities, gasoline, pharmaceuticals, personal care items,
taxi fares and film.

The clothing index declined
from 109.9 to 109.6 as the result of summer sales, particularly in women's and children's wear.

Blood Donor Clinic Planned

Pentiction's fall blood donor
clinic will be held September 30-October 2 inclusive.

Announcing the dates this morning, blood clinic chairman
Al Ante said the objective for the fall clinic would be 1,400 pints.

"We reached 1,340 during our spring clinic to win the Royal Bank of Canada blood trophy shield," Mr. Ante said. "This time we're behind the eight ball
a little because Pentiction will be the first city the clinic visits. We want to set a new high if we can
so that we can sit back and watch
Kelowna and Vernon fail to catch us."

Pentiction was the first city in the Okanagan to win the new blood donor award. It is at present on display in the lobby of the city hall.

Two new features will be introduced to the coming clinic.
The Hudson's Bay Company has announced a blood donor
clinic poster contest for junior-
senior high school students.

First prize in the grand aggregate of $50 in merchandise prizes
will be a Brownie Hawkeye flash
camera outfit; second, a Buxton wallet; and third, two 12-inch hi-fi long play records with choice of title.

In the junior section first prize
will be a wrist watch; second, a Brownie holiday camera, and third, a copy of Edith Lambert
Sharp's book "Nkwala."

The competition commences immediately with the deadline for entries set for 10 a.m. September 27. Names of judges are to be announced later.

A new merit plan open to all business firms with ten or more employees will be used for the first time.

Suitable certificates will be awarded the top company donors
in each of five groups.

Garages and machine shops
will form group one. In the second group will be industry and contractors; in the third, oil companies, distributors and agents. The fourth will comprise offices, stores, banks, hotels, the RCMP and press and radio. In the fifth group will be federal,
provincial and civic offices.

Agreement Reached on 'Sons' Move

VICTORIA (CP)—A four-man delegation for the Sons of Freedom Doughboree sect requested 3-000 copies of citizenship renunciation forms here Wednesday after final agreement was reached with federal and B.C. governments on the terms for the Freedomites relocation in Russia.

The governments concerned
also granted, with some qualifications, an extension of the Sept.
30 deadline set earlier for the Sons to sign up for their projected move, Attorney-General
Robert Bonner announced.

The two governments agreed that renunciation of citizenship by the Freedomites would become effective only when they leave Canada.

These two concessions had been requested by delegates Joe E. Podovnikov, Peter W. Elmsoff,
John J. Koznetsoff and Joe Gov-atkov.

FEDERAL ENGINEER TESTIFIES

Sewage Equipment Faulty

OTTAWA (CP)—A federal mechanical engineer testified today
that sewage and water equipment installed in the government
printing bureau by Montreal accident Ernest Cormier was so faulty that one employee got a
"hot seat" using toilet facilities
while another got a faceful of sewage.

M. M. Kennedy, former works department engineer who now is head of the agriculture department's building installation
branch, said also that a sewage pipe ran above an open drinking water tank. Seepage of sewage into the water became so bad
that the water system had to be shut down for two weeks.

He told the Commons public accounts committee that he originally had criticized the location

R. A. POHL, 431 Winnipeg, examines the gaping hole burned through the kitchen floor in the house of his neighbor, Miss Helen W. Reith, 424 Winnipeg. The fire, which occurred early this morning, sent billowing smoke through the house, forcing two sisters, Margaret and Ann McQuaker, rooming upstairs, to flee through a window and reach safety from a porch roof.

They were assisted by a young boy.

Boy Helps Women To Escape House Fire

Two young women were momentarily stranded on the front
roof of the house in which they were rooming when billowing
smoke from a blaze in the kitchen
forced them to climb out the upstairs window.

Fire broke out under the stove
in the kitchen and badly gutted
the floor in the home of Miss Helen W. Reith at 424 Winnipeg Street.

Shortly after 6 a.m. Margaret and Ann McQuaker, sisters rooming together in an upstairs room,
were awakened by smoke. They were unable to leave the room
by the door because of the thick smoke. After they climbed out the window onto the front roof, a young lad obtained a ladder and the two women were brought down to safety. The boy then summoned the fire department.
He left the scene before his name
could be obtained.

Fire Chief Merv Forean
attributed the cause of the blaze to spontaneous combustion, resulting from a lack of air space
under the stove. It is believed the fire could have been burning
for hours before firemen were summoned.

"The smoke aroused us," Margaret McQuaker explained afterwards. "It met us at the door

when we tried to get out. Then we climbed out the window and called to the boy. We sent the lad around the back to get a ladder."

Miss Reith was away at the
time.

An official estimate of the damage has not yet been given, but it is reported to be quite high. The floor of the kitchen was ruined
and smoke damage was extensive throughout the house. Losses are covered by insurance.

The blaze claimed the lives

Injured Vernon Firefighter in Good Condition

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—A firefighter injured in battling a forest blaze near Revelstoke, B.C., was reported in satisfactory condition
today in hospital at Vernon
where he was flown Wednesday
by RCAF helicopter.

The man, identified as a Thomas Divine, had spent three days
at the 6,300-foot level of a mountain ridge. He suffered undermined injuries in the accident
Monday.

Wilson Wins Indefinite Stay Of Execution

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—
Jimmy Wilson, the Negro sentenced to die for robbing an elderly white widow, won an indefinite stay of execution today. He had been scheduled to die in the electric chair early Friday morning.

The Alabama State Supreme Court, which has upheld the death sentence, said no decision would be handed down today on Wilson's request for a rehearing.
That automatically put the execution off, since no condemned man
can be put to death while his appeal is still in court.

When the Supreme Court rules
on the rehearing petition, it can agree to reconsider its previous decision or let it stand. If the rehearing is denied, a new execution date will be fixed at that
time.

Peiping Sets Up New Sea Limits

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

TAIPEI (AP)—Communist China today posted a new keep out warning to any American ships and planes that might be sent to help Nationalist Chinese in Formosa and garrisons on Quemoy and other offshore islands.

The Peiping regime extended
its territorial waters from three to 12 miles off shore, taking in Quemoy and Matsu which nestle
against the Chinese mainland.
The official New China news agency said in a broadcast that all foreign ships and aircraft
must have permission to travel
in the new zone.

The new area also includes Formosa, about 100 miles from the mainland, and the Nationalists' Pescadores Islands, supply point
about 30 miles from Formosa.
Both have always been claimed by the Reds as part of China.

The announcement charged that "U.S. military occupation of Formosa is an illegal act violating Chinese territory and sovereignty."

DEFINE AREA

The news agency defined the starting point of the new 12-mile line as the line connecting the mainland coast with its offshore islands. That would take in Quemoy, Matsu, about 18 miles from the nearest point on the coast, is within what the Peiping announcement called the Chinese inland sea.

The new sea limits give Peiping the pretext to regard any blockade-busting mission to relieve Quemoy as an act of invasion.

The Red Chinese move likely will be called illegal by most of the Western allies. But the allies lodged similar protests recently when the Russians extended their sea limits and got nowhere.

The U.S. meanwhile continued
to station its forces in Formosa.
Authorities announced the arrival of more American Sabre jets, but did not say how many.

Gen. Curtis Lemay, U.S. Air

Force deputy chief of staff and the chief American exponent of long-range bombing, is due in Formosa Sunday for a look at the situation.

TO TOUR BASES
Lemay is expected to remain
here several days at the invitation of the Nationalists and then take off for a tour of U.S. Air Force bases in the Pacific.

The communists' continued
slackening off their shelling of Quemoy today.
Nationalist defence headquarters reported that up to early afternoon only 144 shells landed on the islands off the Chinese mainland. The bombardment Wednesday also was relatively light—740
shells.

Meanwhile the U.S. carriers
Essex and Midway and the cruiser Los Angeles neared Far Eastern waters to join the 7th
Fleet guarding the Formosa
Straits.

These warships, plus additional
air force units apparently comprised the new help Vice-Admiral Roland N. Smoot said was on its way to aid the Chinese Nationalists.

Arrival of the Essex and Midway will raise to six the number of carriers in the 7th Fleet. The U.S. Air Force last weekend ordered a force of F-100 Super Sabre jets and transport planes to Pacific bases.

The main 500-bed military hospital on Quemoy was fired upon Tuesday and Wednesday, and in Wednesday's attack a male nurse
was killed and four other hospital
attendants were wounded. The patients, however, had been transferred to smaller field hospitals
after the building was attacked
Tuesday.

Ike Ready to Act

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today solemnly warned Red China that he will not hesitate to commit American armed forces to defence of the Nationalist offshore islands if he finds such action necessary to the security of Formosa.

The president's position was set forth by State Secretary Dulles in a statement authorized by Eisenhower after the two had conferred at the summer White House for one hour and 45 minutes.

Dulles said Eisenhower will not hesitate to conclude that Formosa, the main Chinese Nationalist bastion, would be threatened
by an attack on Quemoy, Matsu
and other offshore islands.
Dulles stressed that Eisenhower
has not yet made any such finding under authority conferred on him by Congress.

WOULD USE ACTION

"Presidential determination, if made, would be followed by action both timely and effective,"
Dulles said.
Despite the persistent bombardment of the Nationalist islands by the Reds, and Communist China's unannounced intention to invade, Dulles said the United States has not abandoned hope that the Communist government "will stop short of defying the will of main-kind for peace."

"The president and I earnestly hope that the Chinese Communist regime will not again, as in the case of Korea, defy the basic principle upon which world order
depends, namely that armed force
should not be used to achieve territorial ambitions."

"Any such naked use of force
would pose an issue far transcending the offshore islands and even the security of Taiwan (Formosa)."

DANGER TO U.S.
Any such development "would forecast a widespread use of force in the Far East which would endanger vital free world
positions and the security of the United States."

Dulles said any U.S. acquiescence would threaten peace everywhere.

TODAY'S BULLETINS

Judge Charged with Impaired Driving

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice Sidney A. Smith, 60, of the B.C. Court of Appeal was arrested overnight and charged with impaired driving. He was released on his own recognizance after being booked into city jail. In police court today his case was remanded to Friday.

Bribe Trial Adjourned to Oct. 20

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial was adjourned today for six weeks until Oct. 20 because of the serious illness of a woman member of the jury. After hearing medical testimony that juror Mrs. Shirley Izon has a virus infection complicated by jaundice, and would be away for six weeks, Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson said he felt he had no other course than adjourn the lengthy trial.

New Race Violence Hits London

LONDON (CP)—Race violence broke out again in London
today as 33 persons were appearing in courts in connection with earlier clashes. A "Molotov cocktail"—homemade gasoline bomb—was hurled into a Notting Hill area apartment occupied by Negroes. No one was hurt and the blaze was extinguished by firemen.

BUT WITH STINGING REBUKE

Senate Bows to Commons

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — In a rare action, the Senate has coupled grudging acceptance of majority Commons wishes with a stinging rebuke against a "basic injustice."

Senator Salter Hayden (L.-Ont.) used that sharp language Wednesday after the Upper House withdrew an amendment to new death duties legislation passed earlier by the Commons. The Lower House had accepted seven Senate-proposed amendments but balked at the eighth, whereby allowance would have been made in valuing estates for death duty purposes on income tax due in future on superannuation and pension benefits left to a beneficiary.

The Senate's amendment came after a vote last week which across party lines. Then the Commons sent a message, proposed by Finance Minister Fleming, who steered the bill through the Lower House, saying the suggested change was unworkable and would be discriminatory.

Senator Hayden said: "It is only unworkable in the minds of those who refuse to recognize that it requires to be worked out."

WEAK SURRENDER

He said the government's refusal to accept the amendment was "a weak and total surrender to expediency" and the Commons, in going along with the government's wishes, was guilty of a "hasty and ill-advised action."

Nevertheless the Senate agreed without a vote not to "insist" on the amendment.

The Senate's proof that it has a will of its own came as the session approached its end. In a cheerful accord, the three Commons parties agreed to aim at previously restricted to a maximum 25 loans from Central Mortgaging days after the May 12 opening of the 24th Parliament. Works Minister Green said he hopes all business can be concluded by the end of the week. Liberal House Leader Lionel Chevrier and CCF spokesman H. W. Herridge promised their parties will co-operate.

INCREASE LOANS

Earlier, Mr. Green announced that the quota on government housing loans to small builders will be doubled, to 50 from 25. The aim is to fight winter unemployment, Mr. Green said in a listing optimistic figures on housing construction.

Under the new ruling, builders previously restricted to a maximum 25 loans from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a federal agency, would be entitled to another 25, with qualifications. Mr. Green said the housing situation in Canada is "most encouraging." The number of new homes started this year would reach a record of 150,000 and might go to 160,000.

In other action, the Commons approved final items in spending estimates of the public works, trade and post office departments, moving closer to the anticipated Friday prorogation.

Discussion of trade estimates brought criticism from Liberal Prime Minister Diefenbaker and CCF members, who said a government plan to spend $30,000 this year in aiding small businesses is small potatoes.

"Where are the loans?" said CCF House Leader Hazen Argue, referring to promises of financial assistance he said the Progressive Conservatives made during the March 31 election campaign.

Opposition Leader Pearson said the $30,000 figure doesn't justify the big publicity buildup it received.

Trade Minister Churchill said the new branch is an indication that the government is doing what it can to assist small business.

At the start of the sitting, the new branch is an indication that the government is doing what it can to assist small business.

CITY & DISTRICT

Thursday, September 4, 1958 THE PENTICTON HERALD 3

Old Days Re-lived In Oliver District

OLIVER—The old days of Fairview and Camp McKinney came to life again Tuesday night and the orchards of the South Okanagan gave way to the sage brush of former years.

The occasion was a banquet tendered oldtimers of the district by the Oliver Centennial Committee.

Mining and cattle took over from fruit, and horse drawn stages from the Greyhound buses. Names deeply rooted in the history and folklore of the district were well represented, Richter, Haynes, Carmichael, Kruger and Ripley.

The spirit in which the evening was received was summed up by Bob Blackburn, now of Enderby, when he said: "Although I am still convalescing from an illness, Mrs. Blackburn and I made the trip to attend this first reunion and in this world, probably the last."

Born in Ontario Mr. Blackburn arrived in McKinney in 1899 to work as blacksmith's assistant to the late Bill Dalrymple, whose wife Matilda was present reliving some of the days of 75 years ago when, as a girl, she was riding the range around Fairview.

Will Haynes and Hans Richter recalled some stories of Fairview before the turn of the century and A. C. Ripley spoke of the four generations of his family which can now number a strength of 146 living members.

Doug Smithers, chairman of the centennial committee, was master of ceremonies for the evening. After welcoming those present he paid special tribute to George MacDougall, Arthur McCuddy and Mrs. Katie Lacey for their research work in compiling the list of oldtimers. Mr. MacDougall was the first white boy born in Fairview.

Frank Richter, MLA, brought to the gathering the compliments of the provincial government and in his few remarks noted the lack of an adequate recorded history of the early days of the district.

The only formal part of the evening's program was the presentation of Centennial scrolls.

A Class "A" scroll was presented to Mrs. Margaret Louie, wife of Chief Manuel, who was born in the Oliver district 87 years ago. Mrs. Victoria Baptiste also qualified for this premier award but was not present to receive it.

Class "B" scrolls were presented to Leonard Hozier, Hester White, Joe Richter, Ed Richter, Chief Manuel, Matilda Dalrymple, Will and Val Haynes.

George Kirby, aged 91, now of Oroville, in a clear voice introduced a resolution of thanks to the Centennial committee for the wonderful evening he and his old time friends had had. It received unanimous standing affirmation.

Funeral Rites For Peachland Pioneer

PEACHLAND — Albert James McKenzie, respected pioneer resident of Peachland, died in his sleep at his home on Friday, August 29. Funeral services were held from the Baptist Church on Tuesday, September 2 at 2 p.m., with the Reverend Lyall Kennedy of Summerland officiating.

Born in Glueph, Ont., in 1879, Mr. McKenzie came west to Winnipeg as a young man, and to Peachland in 1901. A carpenter by trade, he helped with the construction of a number of buildings still being used in the community, the Presbyterian Church, now the Municipal Hall; Fulk's General Store, then the Peachland Trading Co., and the Baptist Church in 1910. He took a great interest in community affairs, serving on the Municipal Council in the 1920s, also as a school trustee for several years, and was always a zealous church worker.

In 1905 Mr. McKenzie was married to Gertrude Allen McCall, a daughter of an earlier pioneer, Leon McCall. They made their home in Peachland until the summer of 1913 when the pioneer spirit led them towards the Peace River Block, from Edson, Alta. They drove with horse and oxen, supplies for themselves and the animals to within ninety miles of their goal, when their feed ran short and cold weather forced them to return to Edson and later to Peachland, where they lived until 1929.

In that year this adventurous family moved to the Nicola country and bought a cattle ranch at Penticton. They remained there until the fall of 1946, when Mr. McKenzie retired to, again, live in Peachland.

Mr. McKenzie was predeceased by his wife in 1953. Surviving are three daughters, Ella, Mrs. Wilfred King, Summerland; Grace, Mrs. Robert Farrell, Powell River; Muriel, at home; two sons, Wallace, Peachland; Gordon, Groulx Ranch, and seven grandchildren.

Palbearers were Jeff Todd, Archie McKinnon, R. Foy, T. McLaughlin Sr., Ray Harrington and Erwin Campbell of Penticton. Interment took place in the Peachland cemetery.

Water Improvement For Summerland Area

By MRS. A. W. VANDERBURGH
SUMMERLAND — Plans have been made here to repair the diversion ditch to Crescent Dam in 1959; to continue the policy of repairing and clearing all the dams; and to replace the winter pipeline.

Many hours of thoughtful planning are done by the municipal council which are unknown to most people. One of these sessions took place this week when these improvements were formulated and a long-range look was taken at Summerland's water storage and the needs of the distribution system. So far there is plenty of water. Weak points in the storage dams are to be made strong and distribution guaranteed.

Councillor W. B. Powell remarked that this long dry summer equalled any ever experienced here and to insure future water supply work should be done.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson stated his policy when he said, "I believe in going back to the dams, keeping them in shape, brushing them and rebuilding the towers."

This was reiterated by Councillor Norman Holmes whose opinion was, "Water storage comes first. A distribution system is no use without water."

No increase in water rates is in mind for next year though the diversion ditch to Crescent Dam is to be rebuilt completely at an estimated cost of $2,537.57 which includes materials and 1,200 feet of flume to be reconstructed as well as the ditch and clearing out the creek below the flume.

K. M. Blagborne, municipal superintendent of works, recommended taking out the metal now, cleaning out the ditch and ordering materials for spring building.

Rebuilding of the diversion ditch is long overdue, it was noted, since it was advised by former municipal foreman, the late E. Kercher, in 1942, sixteen years ago. All but two dams at Headwaters can be filled from it. Green lumber cut on the spot can be used for the wood part of the construction. This was done before and has lasted 25 years.

Most of the ditches within the municipality are in good shape, Mr. Blagborne said. This would cut down maintenance costs within the corporation. Another saving will be effected by fewer costly sprinkler irrigation extensions next year. Garnett Valley flumes and ditches need constant repair as the old parts are being rebuilt.

"We are past the worst in rebuilding," Mr. Blagborne said. This has been done from current revenue.

The winter pipeline will be rebuilt with surplus money from the Crescent Beach waterline. A 12-inch pipe may be installed throughout which would increase the capacity greatly.

Sprinkler systems were said to need a long run of water, probably 15 days or more than ditch irrigation. After September 15-20 water can be shut off safely in Summerland and no orchard will suffer was council opinion. If water is given longer, it is usually wasted though at times young trees might show signs of leaf withering.

The lower on Crescent Dam has been rebuilt; No. 1 dam has been repaired and raised. At No. 2, there is a new spillway and the tunnel has been repaired. No. 3 has a new tower and brushing is completed. There is work to be done at No. 4 next year.

The first storage water was opened June 25, then two weeks of rainy weather made an overflow so that it was almost August 1 before storage water was used.

As of last Saturday K. M. Blagborne reported 30 feet of water in Thirsk Dam; 15 feet in Canyon; only two feet used from No. 1 and No. 3. No. 2 Dam and Crescent Dams are empty though the lake behind Crescent is untouched. Garnett Valley Dam has not been opened this year. So Summerland is well supplied with water even though the summer was one of record heat and clear sunshine.

Water consumption has dropped recently from three million gallons per day to just over one million per day, Mr. Blagborne reported.

Youngsters Pass Swimming Tests

NARAMATA — Forty-six Naramata youngsters were successful in passing swimming tests at the conclusion of the annual summer classes held at Manitou Park under the supervision of Red Cross trained instructors, Miss Barrie Gartrell, Penticton, and Miss Maureen Darters of Naramata.

In the beginners' class were Jill Day, Tommy Pedersen, Arlene Nettleton, Bruce Clough, Robert Bowring, Charles Belchman, Jackie Tillar, Jerry Lamb, Jimmy Lamb and Rosaline Smethurst.

Juniors included Lennie Gagne, Bruce McPhee, Austin Geller, Inkie Komen, Eileen Stanforth, Barry Littlejohn, Maria Pattison, Lucy Atkinson, Peter Graham, Carolyn Stark, Shirley Stark.

CARS Head to Visit OK Falls

Miss Mary Pack, executive secretary of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society in B.C., will be visiting Okanagan Falls this weekend. In the Hall there, on September 8 at 8 p.m., there will be a public meeting jointly sponsored by the Canadian Legion and Board of Trade. Anyone interested in the work of CARS is invited to attend. Movies will be shown.

Physiotherapist Miss Diana Traynor has now left, and her successor in the CARS clinic in Penticton hospital is expected about September 15. Volunteer drivers, who regularly supply transportation to patients without cars, will be duly notified by Mrs. E. S. Beaveroff who looks after this public service.

While regular drivers have been on holidays, Mrs. J. R. Worthing has taken care of things. The following drivers also assisted during the summer months: Mr. and Mrs. M. Halverson, C. J. McKee, O. Croonquist, O. Husted and Miss Flora Neil.

The handicrafts class will not meet until October. In the last Bluebird Notes there was an error in the number of Canadian training schools for physiotherapists. Actually there are schools in Montreal, Ottawa and in Edmonton.

There are over 3,500,000 boys and girls attending Public Elementary and Secondary Schools in Canada — 1957.

Government's Idea of A Supported Price

British Columbia fruit growers, particularly those with heavy soft fruit crops, are wondering how the farm stabilization act can bring stability to the faltering fruit industry.

Vee peaches sold to canners this year for $90, Elbertas at $82.50. The balance of the crop went to the fresh fruit market at what has been termed "fair prices."

During the past ten years the average price to growers in B.C. has been around $88 a ton. This price is an average arrived at after returns from canners and fresh fruit markets have been compiled. In Ontario during the same period the average price to growers has been $92 a ton.

With such averages over a ten year period it is difficult to see how the figure of $83 per ton, the price assured Ontario growers, was arrived at.

As Arthur Garrish puts it: "If the stabilization act is designed to protect growers and make sure they get a fair share in any marketing deals, the price set for Ontario growers is very low indeed." And we cannot help but agree.

Whether we support guaranteed prices or not doesn't really matter in this particular issue. What does matter is that if a supported price policy is the best plan the present government can come up with, then it should be price support in reasonable fashion. A ceiling price far lower than growers have received for at least ten years is no way to give the industry the stability it needs.

Just how the government thinks is always difficult to fathom, but when the leaders of the country agree that with market conditions as they are the fruit industry needs support, and then proceeds to offer support at a lower price than growers will get by selling their product where they can, presents a prize conundrum.

Fine in Theory, but

While bowing before the wisdom of traffic control officers we cannot help but wonder at the advisability of Main street as a four lane highway.

Two nine foot lanes on either side of the white centre line, plus a seven foot area for parking appears to us to be creating a traffic hazard rather than eliminating one.

It is true that theoretically traffic will move faster and safer through a congested area if lanes are clearly defined, but surely such a policy is only needed in large cities with an extremely heavy flow of traffic.

On paper the four lane highway markings for Main street look fine, but in practice there is doubt in our mind that Main street is wide enough, the flow of traffic heavy enough, or our drivers capable enough to handle the dodging pass-both-sides driving the new lanes will invite.

Significant Achievement

A lot of things President Eisenhower said in his speech to the United Nations several days ago received headline treatment in the world's newspapers. But one statement that was largely overlooked may have been his most significant remark, notes the Christian Science Monitor. The ancient problem of water, the president said, "is on the threshold of solution."

Experts struggling with the complexities of taking fresh water from the sea may feel the President's choice of words a bit optimistic. The "threshold" may be a decade in width. But great progress has been made. Here surely is a development of vast potential benefit for all mankind.

The fundamental importance of water in the economy of earth is becoming more widely understood. Thirsty regions such as the Mideast have long known how wonderful it would be to have an unlimited supply of this commodity. What is not so widely appreciated is the fact that demands of industry and of a burgeoning population are straining water resources even in well-endowed areas. For example, the water-rich northeast section of the United States has local water shortages almost every summer.

Thus the President has spotlighted a development that has a direct bearing on the well-being of people everywhere. He mentioned new methods of developing latent fresh-water sources, such as using radio-active tracers to locate underground rivers. But the great long-range hope is the development of economical ways to turn salt water into fresh in large quantities.

Some existing distillation plants are already doing this on the scale of millions of gallons daily. They are "in the ball park" as far as quantity is concerned. But they would hardly be considered economical except for specialized uses. Yet within five to ten years there is a good chance that such distillation and other desalting schemes will become economical for many water-short areas.

Such an achievement can be as significant for mankind as the development of economical atomic energy. It will remove a limitation that has frustrated many of the earth's people for millenniums. It will make food available in spots accustomed to famine. What is more, it will insure that growing industrialization in all areas will not be hampered for lack of potable water.

That is why President Eisenhower's brief reference to solving the water problem could become the most memorable part of his speech.

MAKING THE MOST OF IT

TALK OF THE VALLEY

RCMP Seeking Two Shutter Snappers

Several Oliver people got taken last Saturday. And we don't mean their photographs. That's exactly what we don't mean.

Two individuals, professing to represent a reputable Alberta firm of photographers, canvassed the Oliver district and sold pre-paid appointments to a number of people. When Saturday came and the people turned up to get their pictures taken, it was discovered that the would-be photographers had skipped town.

RCMP advises all people doing business with strangers to check their credentials and request to see their trade licence.

They'll be claiming Grand Coulee next.

MUSEUM POPULAR

The museum recently opened in the S. S. Sicomous continues to favorably impress many visitors from afar. The "museum within a museum" is receiving new articles for display all the time. It is hoped that it will continue to expand in this fashion, making available both to the local public and to visitors a varied collection that can fully portray the history of this area.

NET RESULT - 1.4 CENTS

Average net receipt of 18.5 cents a day from parking meters during the first eight months of this year is the record to date. Last year for the corresponding period the net take was 19.9 cents.

This could mean one of many things. It could mean that less people have cars. Or that more people with cars are walking. Or that less people are going downtown.

The lives of thousands may have been altered. The net result 1.4 cents.

SUMMERLAND BUILDING

Summerland building estimates are down $13,250 for the first eight months of this year as compared with last year's figures. Total until the end of August as issued by R. F. Angus building inspector is 90 permits amounting to $325,980. Last year in the same period there were 103 permits given out for $339,230.

During August building permits included one new dwelling estimated at $17,000; one new commercial at $1,000; and alterations and additions costing $200, or a total for last month of $19,700. In August, 1957, building estimates were $63,550 indicating much less activity in construction this summer than last.

WEED CONTROL

There has been general clean-up of the Summerland Orchard Municipal cemetery where during the hot summer the weeds had grown beyond all control. E. H. Bennett, chairman of the Parks Board has had two men working there this week. The weeds have been removed and a general tidying has taken place.

JUST DIME TALK

The John Hart Dam on the Campbell River, which was planned and built some time before the Social Credit party came to power in B.C., is listed on page 16 of the Secret autobiographical booklet of self-praise, "Our Greatest Six Years", as being among the notable achievements of the party.

Not only was the John Hart Dam not conceived and realized during the tenure of the Bennett regime, but it also might be added that the picture on page 16 of the booklet is not of the John Hart Dam at all. It is a picture of the Comline Wapeta Power Plant and Dam on the Pend-Oreille River, 11 miles south of Trail.

High Costs Strike University Campus

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

High costs have hit the campus. Most university students enrolling this month will pay more for their year of study than it cost their parents to get degrees.

The financial squeeze has not lessened the lure of higher learning. Colleges across Canada, with the exception of a handful that have reached the saturation point, report registrations this year will hit unprecedented heights. Next year the clamor for admission will be even louder.

In the general price spiral of the post-war years, universities have seen their operating costs soar.

SALARIES UP

Staff salaries have risen. Expansion programs designed to meet the needs of the growing student body and improve existing facilities have made further inroads on academic budgets.

As a result, this year's students will pay from 25 to 100 per cent more than the fee levels at the end of the war. Many in their early years have no assurance the bills won't be higher still before they leave with their sheepskins.

A Canadian Press survey of 28 colleges—some with only limited degree—conferring powers—shows that 13 have announced fee increases for the 1958-59 year. In three cases it was the second boost in as many years. Most of the others have raised their fees within the last two or three years.

A notable exception has been Memorial University of Newfoundland, which this year raised fees for the first time since the war. The 50-per-cent increase is large proportionately but Memorial still shares with St. Dunstan's University of Charlottetown the distinction of being the lowest-priced college in Canada. The average tuition bill is $150 a year.

At the other end of the scale is Montreal's McGill University, the most expensive even before it raised its fees this year by an average of $100. A McGill arts student will pay $550 in 1958-59 while for an aspiring doctor the bill will be $750. Engineering fees are $700.

McGill, whose anticipated student body of 8,000 this year makes it the fourth largest university in Canada, has doubled its medical and law fees since the 1945-46 term and more than doubled them in arts and engineering.

for the immediate future, Toronto's last increase came in 1956 while UEC has been steady since 1951.

By way of comparison, the arts, engineering and medical fees respectively are $375, $325 and $525 at Montreal; $380, $546 and $596 at Toronto and $246, $296 and $451 at UEC.

Most Rev. J. Gerald Berry, president of the 550-student St. Mary's University in Halifax which announced slight fee increases this year for the second time in three years, summarized the problems facing his institution.

"We are in a period of rising prices, when institutional costs are steadily increasing. Increased costs can only be met by increased revenue if educational excellence is to be maintained."

Said A. D. Duntion, new president of Ottawa's Carleton University.

"Carleton University has increased its fee structure to help meet the required standards of a new and growing university."

Along with this much-needed physical expansion has gone the absolute necessity of first-rate salaries so that teaching standards may match the physical facilities.

Students in general, however, are not paying for all they get at college. Sir George Williams College in Montreal says it is losing money on each student. Assumption University of Windsor, Ont., and the University of Alberta at Edmonton estimate students pay only one-third of the cost of their education.

As to the over-all cost of a full college education, it depends on where the student goes, the institution of his choice and the course he takes.

An out-of-town student faces an average expenditure of about $600 for board and lodging at university residences in Ontario and Quebec although he can get by for $500 or less in the Atlantic provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

Book costs vary, depending on what the student must or may buy and what he borrows from the university library, but a good estimate might be $50 a year for an arts student and considerably more in advanced professional courses. A dental student needs instruments running into hundreds of dollars, which he can use when he finally practices his profession.

The University of Manitoba, on the other hand, estimates the approximate total cost to a student at $1,215 for every academic year. That works out to $4,860 for a four-year arts course, $6,075 for five years in engineering, $7,290 for six years of law or dentistry, and $8,505 for the seven-year medical course.

OTTAWA REPORT

Liberals Tory to Discredit Group

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Special Correspondent to the Herald

Desperately anxious to smother the damaging revelation that the former Liberal government had spent the taxpayers' money with wanton waste and for partisan political purposes, Liberal M.P.s on the headlined Public Accounts Committee—and their sympathizers—are resorting to every possible subterfuge and red herring to discredit that committee.

First came time-wasting. Ex-Liberal cabinet minister Lionel Chevrier managed to waste several hours by lengthy and repetitious questioning of witnesses. Another former Liberal cabinet minister, J. W. Pickersgill, assisted him in this by initiating long procedural wrangles.

Then there was the mass absenteeism of the Liberals on the committee, who refused to attend a meeting called for 1:30 p.m. on the grounds that it would interfere with their attendance in parliament (which opens at 2:30 p.m.), and the other parliamentary work (possibly that placed before them in the restaurant.)

CBC RED HERRING

The latest manoeuvre is the attempt to smear the committee which has discredited the former Liberal government. This centres around the lavish but ignorant use of such phrases as "McCarthy witch hunt". This is a misplaced and unclever effort to compare Ottawa's parliamentary committee work with his enemies' description of Senator McCarthy's anti-communist committee hearings in Washington.

As intensive as it is clumsy, this campaign is throwing up that comparison morning, noon and night, especially by the correspondents of Liberal newspapers, either in print or over the CBC.

What makes this innuendo farcical is that nearly all the critics never attended a McCarthy Committee hearing in Washington, while some of them had not even attended meetings of the Ottawa committee which they were criticising.

These commentators have overlooked one relevant parallel. The Republican Senator McCarthy set out to uncover enemies of the state at a time when his political opponents, the Democratic government, were trying to hush up past scandals. He succeeded in exposing a number of Communists, some of whom were executed or imprisoned. The Public Accounts Committee here has similarly succeeded in uncovering enemies of the taxpayer whose actions—such as ballooning the cost of building the new printing bureau from $6,000,000 to $16,000,000—had been carefully concealed by the previous government.

It is true that, as one commentator said, we have never seen anything like this in Ottawa during the past 25 years—because the Liberal Government hog-tied its committees and government chairmen ruled embarrassing questions "out of order."

GOOD PRECEDENT SET

Another critic declares "Westminster never saw anything like this committee." (How does he know?) But neither—and the writer of course omitted to add this—has Westminster in living memory seen anything like the costly bungling at the Printing Bureau.

The Conservative Government has this year set a very desirable precedent. Expenditure of the taxpayers' money is being closely studied by this watchdog committee as never before. So it will be impossible for the Conservative Government in future years to refuse that committee the opportunity to probe into Conservative expenditures, just as this year it is probing into expenditures made by the former Liberal Government.

It is in the interest of all taxpayers that our government, any government, knows that in future it must exercise full care in spending our dollars and cents; or else reap the taxpayers' wrath at the polls.

For ten years this Printing Bureau story has been hushed up. In ten days Conservative MPs on the Public Accounts Committee have exposed it. They cannot get us back those extra $10,000,000, but they have done their best to make sure that such a thing does not happen again in the future.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Royal Navy is In Uneasy Role

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Royal Navy's uncomfortable role of a Goliath refusing to be pushed around by an Icelandic David in the Atlantic fishing grounds is being watched by most Britons with amusement tinged with embarrassment.

The practice of repelling boarders by dousing them with fire hoses and then warning them with cups of cocoa is unlikely to call for an early revision of the naval textbooks outlining the tactics that won the day at Trafalgar, Jutland and the River Plate. For the moment, the world of comic opera has taken over.

Official exchanges between the British and Icelandic governments continue to deal with the situation with appropriate solemnity. Dispatches from Reykjavik may indicate that Iceland takes a grim view of the hostilities.

But in Britain, where the dispute over Iceland's newly proclaimed 12-mile territorial limit has troubled many observers with thoughts of possible rifts in the NATO Alliance, the shift from the expensive alternative of modernizing their fleet with vessels of warfare resembling nautical cliché provides an irresistible break in the tension.

London's newspapers, almost without exception, are offering play-by-play reports from correspondents aboard the travelers or naval escort vessels or on aircraft skimming close to the battle area. Their accounts carry the strong implication that things will blow over any day now.

In Iceland, where leftist elements are attempting to build up the affair into a full-scale ideological dispute, the broken windows in the British Embassy indicate that everyone isn't taking a similarly light-hearted view. But the government's restraint reflects a desire to leave the way open for compromise.

If the Icelanders were on shaky ground in their unilateral extension to 12 miles of their previous four-mile territorial limit, their supporting argument that shallow-water operations threaten to deplete their fishing grounds is worthy of investigation.

British trawlersmen, freed with the expensive alternative of modernizing their fleet with vessels capable of fishing in deeper waters, are strongly opposed to any move that would bar them from their traditional fishing grounds. But the government, while refusing to recognize the 12-mile limit, has repeatedly expressed its willingness to talk over the problem of fish conservation with the Icelanders.

Both problems were discussed at length earlier this summer at a United Nations conference in which Canada led an unsuccessful campaign for an international agreement on wider territorial limits. The United States joined Britain and other Western European countries in opposing the move.

LETTERS

Sir: In regard to your editorial in Saturday's 30th paper. The statement that the death penalty for a Negro in U.S.A.—or anyone—was for theft, is not true. Check the facts. What if a person dies from the effects of the manhandling? Such half truths as yours can do a great deal of harm.

Yours sincerely,
AN AMERICAN TOURIST.

Editor's Note: In the State of Alabama the death penalty can be imposed for theft. The Negro in question was charged with theft, found guilty and sentenced to death on that charge.

GARDEN RECEPTION

Ann Hawkins, L. J. Finlayson Principals in Pretty Ceremony

Interest was widespread in the pretty late - summer ceremony Saturday afternoon uniting in marriage Ann Carrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Hawkins, well-known Penticton residents, and Louis John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Finlayson of Vancouver.

Canon A. R. Eagles officiated when the charming bride was given in marriage by her father before the altar banked with white gladioli spikes and an array of pastel colored summer blooms. Her princess gown of white lace was fashioned in ballerina-length and worn over tulle and crinolines. The fitted basque bodice was enhanced with a round scalloped neckline and below-the-elbow sleeves. A satin cap misted with seed pearls clasped her chapel veil of illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and gardenias and wore a seed pearl necklace and matching sunburst brooch.

The groom's sister, Miss Anna Finlayson, was the bride's only attendant. Her frock of turquoise chiffon was also styled in the ballerina-length and worn with a matching colored feather hair band. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations.

Edmund Terry of Vancouver was best man and the bride's brother, Peter Hawkins, ushered. Mrs. Michael Selwood was wedding organist.

The groom's uncle, Alex Finlayson, piped the young couple into the garden reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents on Lakeside Road. The toast to the bride was proposed by C. W. Stewart and to her attendant by George Darters. Among those assisting during the reception hours were Miss Maureen Darters, Miss Gillian Darters, Miss Beverly Finlay, Miss Joanne Jackson and Miss Patricia Young.

When Mr. and Mrs. Finlayson left on a honeymoon trip to Portland, Oregon, the bride wore a green sheath dress with matching duster, white hat, black accessories and gardenia corsage. They will reside in Vancouver on their return.

Among out-of-town guests were the groom's parents; his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Finlayson, Mr. and Mrs. S. Terry, Mrs. D. Kelland, Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison, Mrs. E. H. Davey, Miss Anna Finlayson, Miss Lena McIver, Edmund Terry and Miss Arlene Kelland, all from Vancouver; Mr. Justice and Mrs. H. W. Davey of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Allen of Britannia Beach and Mrs. T. E. Leigh, West Vancouver.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Spinster Has Taken Initiative In Dating, but Beau Remains Cool

Dear Mary Haworth: I am a spinster, 40, and have occasional dates with a bachelor about my age — but I can't get him to make love to me. He lives in an apartment, quite content; and with him lives a nephew of whom he is very fond, and whom he is sending through college. This affords him a sort of emotional outlet, I suppose.

I have taken most of the initiative from the time we met. He refused several invitations to dinner (for four) in my apartment, before finally accepting once — a date that he seemed to enjoy very much. He has taken me out several times, but is anything but an ardent swain.

I have a very good figure, and dress well, and look to be about 35. I have many friends, including married couples and their children, and keep occupied with many activities, including entertaining friends at meals. I have had beaux and one marriage proposal (from a man whom I didn't really want). Certain friends say I've been "too particular."

PSYCHIATRIST SAYS
CONTINUE THE CHASE

Having a great need to communicate, I discussed my problem with a psychiatrist, who thinks Mr. X is insensitive, with a block against marriage. The specialist said, however, that I should continue to invite Mr. X as often as I like, regardless of whether he returns the civility. But I am very discouraged — as Mr. X obviously isn't in love with me, nor even attracted.

Marjorie Hillis Roulston in her book "Live Alone and Like It"

IS HE WORTH
THE PURSUIT?

Dear C. N.: You have a great fund of sparkling good sense — evident in the humor, candor and objectivity of this report on your thwarted yen for Mr. X. If you can keep this semi-detached pitch, in pursuing him, you may win him yet.

If the bachelor weren't anchored to his nephew at present, he probably would be much more available to you. In time to come, after the nephew moves off to a life of his own (we hope, for his sake) — Mr. X. may find himself in a mood to encourage your court, and repay it with interest.

But I wonder, is he worth waiting, say five years, for? You have the psychiatrist's verdict that he is insensitive, with a block against marriage — which indicates that, even if he signed up as a husband, he would be a hindrance to joy-of-living. And it is my impression that you are a vital unguarded person, who is better off single, than married to an unfeeling, self-centred or neuter-sexed man.

MAY BE USEFUL
TARGET PRACTICE

However, if you see nothing better on the horizon, in which to invest your enthusiasm, you may as well use him for target practice. Later the answer to prayer may appear.

The customary device for catching a bachelor consists in snaring him with patience. Cater to his vanity and his comfort; pay him all manner of graceful, special, flattering attentions — in a blithely devoted but non-possessive way. Then in a sudden happenstance change of pace, be swept into other channels of activity that leave him stranded temporarily — feeling like an abandoned baby.

In a shock-state, he may propose, to establish fixed claim to the pampered routine. Or he may not, depending upon how foxy he is. It is simply a gamble the campaigner must risk. — M.H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Penticton Herald, Penticton, B.C.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Use the time while your baby is sleeping to wash out his clothes in the bathroom basin. A small baby's clothes don't usually get so dirty that they can't be done easily this way, and it's much simpler to do a few at a time every day than to let a load accumulate.

Summerland Couple Entertained on Silver Anniversary

SUMMERLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Dave McInnis were honored on Saturday evening when friends gathered at the beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Menu on the evening of the McInnis' 25th wedding anniversary.

W. A. Laidlaw was master of ceremonies for the happy occasion. Lloyd Shannon was at the controls of a tape recorder when each guest greeted the couple with congratulations or a song.

Mrs. D. L. Sanborn made a presentation of Centennial silver dollars to Mr. and Mrs. McInnis, gifts from their friends. Everyone joined heartily in singing, "They are jolly good fellows."

The couple expressed thanks for the gift and for the good wishes accompanying it.

A buffet supper was served by Mrs. Menu assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Shannon, Mrs. Norman Holmes and Mrs. Harry Hackman.

Frozen Peas Cook Quickly

It is a mistake to cook frozen peas in a small, steep-sided saucepan, declares W. I. Drynan, president of Canadian Canneries Limited, Hamilton.

Frozen peas should be cooked quickly, in only a fraction of a cup of water, in a frying-pan as big as the biggest burner on the stove. This way the maximum pan surface is exposed to the maximum heat, and the steam released travels up through only a thin layer of frozen peas to cook them tender in a twinkling. The peas stay garden-green, sweet, and delicious this laboratory-tested way.

Green peas prove delicious with butter, cream sauce, cheese sauce, or Hollandaise—go well in green salads.

PINK, WHITE THEME

United Church Setting for Morrison-Rothfield Nuptials

Pink and white set the theme for floral arrangements at the pretty ceremony in the Penticton United Church Saturday evening uniting in marriage Genevieve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rothfield of this city and Ian, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison of Vancouver. Rev. Robert Gates read the wedding vows before the altar banked with baskets of the softly colored pink and white gladioli when the fair-haired bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her original model gown, designed in the popular shorter length, was fashioned of white imported peau de sole featuring a barrel shaped skirt with released pleats at the waistline held in place at the hem by a large

bow. The bodice was styled with short sleeves and scoop neckline. A shoulder-length veil was clasped by a coronet of seed pearls and sequins. Complementing the bride's wedding attire were a Danish heiloom aquamarine necklace and the pale pink orchid and white heather bouquet she carried with a white prayer book.

The bride, who is a graduate of the Royal Columbian Hospital School of Nursing, New Westminster, class '56, was attended by Miss Doreen Raptis of Vancouver, who wore a frock of royal blue figured silk styled along similar lines as the bride's gown. Her feathered hat and pumps matched the blue in her frock and she carried pastel colored gladioli in her bouquet.

Thomas Lyton of Vancouver was best man for the groom who attended the University of Western Washington. Ian Mackinnon, also of Vancouver, ushered. Alderman A. C. Kendrick was wedding organist.

A garden reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Booth, Main Street, where guests were received by the wedding group and parents of the principals. Mrs. Rothfield was attractively attired in a two-piece gown of imported broadcloth silk in teal blue with harmonizing accessories and pale yellow corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy blue and white ensemble with a pink corsage.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Booth, and those who assisted during the refreshment hour were the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. William Rothfield, and Miss Marjorie Betts.

The bride travelled in a forest green figured silk ensemble with white accessories when the newly married couple left on the honeymoon trip to Vancouver Island. They will take up residence in Chilliwack on their return.

Among out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lyton, Duncan MacInnes, Miss Marjorie Betts, Jim Fenney and Miss Helen Raptis, all of Vancouver; Miss Judy Calder, Trail; Miss Betty Sander-garth of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold White of Trail.

CHOCOLATE BROWNIES

1/2 cup butter
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup flour
2 ounces melted unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Add butter to melted chocolate, mix well; then stir in the sugar. When well mixed, add the well beaten eggs. Add flour. Stir to a smooth batter, then add the nuts. Spread in a fairly thin layer on a greased shallow pan. Bake at 350° F. for 25 minutes.
Let stand in pan to harden, as they will appear to be uncooked, so cut while warm. These will taste like chocolate fudge.

Jensen-Cooper Rites Performed in Garden

SUMMERLAND — The garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Adams, French Orchard, was the setting for the marriage of their daughter, Pauline Margaret Cooper, on Saturday afternoon, August 30, when she became the bride of William J. A. Jensen of Cowichan Lake, son of Mrs. A. Jensen of Vancouver and the late Mr. Jensen.

Given in marriage by Mr. Adams, the bride was lovely in a wedding gown of pale blue nylon over matching tulle. She wore a headband of blue flowers and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations. Her accessories were a black diamond pendant, a black diamond bracelet, and a black diamond ring.

As the only attendant, Miss Anne Beggs, the bridesmaid, was in rose nylon net over tulle with headpiece in the same pretty tone and flowers in similar shades.

Rev. C. O. Richmond, minister of Summerland United Church, performed the ceremony and Mrs. Lionel Fudge played the piano.

The groom's brother-in-law, Cleve Garnett of Vancouver, was the best man.

The register was signed on a table among spruce trees and the bride's table was beautifully arranged with the three-tiered wedding cake on a lace cloth laid with roses and tall tapers. The tables were arranged on the lawn and verandah. Friends of the bride who assisted in serving were Miss Rosemary Jensen, sister of the groom, Miss Barbara Fudge, Miss Kathleen Yau, Miss Valerie Miles, Miss Medori Matsui, Miss Pat Armstrong and Miss Beryl Killick of Penticton.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Irvine C. Adams with reply by the groom.

When leaving by car for a honeymoon trip to Kamloops, through the Fraser Valley for a fishing trip at Campbell River, the bride wore a smart navy sheath dress with a pale blue duster coat and white accessories. The couple will reside at Cowichan Lake.

The bride attended Summerland high school and the provincial normal school and has taught during the past year at Lake Cowichan. The groom is with B.C. Forest Products at Youbou.

Out-of-town guests were the groom's mother Mrs. A. Jensen, his sister, Miss Rosemary Jensen, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Garnett and their son, Calvin, of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. A. Spiers of Kamloops; and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Killick and Miss Beryl Killick of Penticton.

Western Weeklies

Dominate Awards

TORONTO (CP)—Western weeklies today dominated the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association's list of awards for papers with a circulation of 1,000 or less.

The Pembina Triangle Progress of Winkler, Man., won the Walter Ashfield Trophy for best all-round paper. Second was the Nanton (Alta.) News and third the Sutton (Ont.) Reporter, only paper east of Manitoba to place in the class.

Other awards:
John W. Eddy Trophy for the best editorial page: 1. Grenfell (Sask.) Sun; 2. Nanton News and Pembina Triangle Progress; 3. Agassiz (B.C.) Harrison Advance.

Printer and Publisher special award for best front page in the class: 1. Port Couillard (B.C.) Herald; 2. Pembina Triangle Progress; 3. Grenfell Sun.

Special competition awards:
Charters Cup for the best 1957 Christmas edition: 1. Le Courrier (Alta.) Herald; 2. Ponoka (Alta.) Herald; 3. Steinbach (Man.) Carillon News.

H. E. Rice Trophy for the best local spot news picture: 1. Grand Falls (Nfld.) Advertiser; 2. Coaticook (Que.) Observer; 3. Oakville (Ont.) Journal.

Printer and Publisher Trophy for the best sport page: 1. Yorkton (Sask.) Enterprise; 2. Courtenay (B.C.) Argus; 3. Grand Falls Advertiser.

David Bean Memorial Trophy for printing: 1. Derksen Printers, Steinbach, Man.; 2. The Shavinnigan Standard and "Echo du St. Maurice," both of Shawinigan Falls, Que.; 3. The Crag and Canyon, Banff, Alta.

Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Chinese Nationalist president, said Wednesday her country doesn't need American fighting men or money now to defend the island of Quemoy. "We can defend Quemoy by ourselves for the time being," she said. "We do not need American fighting men or your money."

60TH ANNIVERSARY
CAP D'AIL, France (Reuters)—Sir Winston and Lady Churchill will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at Lord Beaverbrook's villa here Sept. 12. Churchill's secretary, Anthony Montague Brown, said Wednesday.

EATON SEES GROMYKO
MOSCOW (AP)—Cyrus Eaton, Canadian-born Cleveland industrialist, had a 90-minute talk Wednesday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on Soviet-American relations and other subjects. He said Gromyko expressed surprise that American businessmen are not investigating more vigorously a potentially growing market in the Soviet Union.

SEEKS SEAT
MONTMAGNY, Que. (CP)—Louis Fortin of Quebec City, a municipal court judge, Wednesday night was chosen Progressive Conservative candidate in a Sept. 29 federal by-election in Montmagny—L'Islet riding. The by-election is to fill a vacancy when Liberal Jean Lesage retired from the federal scene last spring after he was named leader of Quebec's Liberal party.

UPHOLD LANGUAGE RIGHT
COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters)—The Senate Wednesday passed a language bill giving the Tamils the right to be educated in their own language. Opposition parties boycotted the Senate session because the bill put the language in a position inferior to Sinhalese.

FAILS TO GAIN
U.S. Citizenship
After Long Voyage
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Australian yachtsman Leonard J. Staples sailed his 30-foot keel Solquest through the Golden Gate Wednesday and tied her up at nearby Sausalito.

The 35-year-old Tasmanian public relations man sailed from Sydney May 11 last year—11,000 miles, 18 months and one child back.

Although he made San Francisco as he said he would, he appeared no nearer his goal—U.S. citizenship.

Staples left Sydney with his wife, Joy, and two sons, Len Jr., now 9, and Wayne, 5.

Staples had a "visitor's" permit to enter the United States, having given up on an immigrant's visa since only 100 Australians are admitted yearly and 5,000 are on a waiting list.

The family arrived in Honolulu last November.

STUCK REEF
Mrs. Staples was pregnant and could not take the tiller when Staples came down with hepatitis. He had been at the helm 30 hours when he collapsed and the boat ran on a coral reef.

After a third child, Kim, was born in Honolulu (becoming automatically a U.S. citizen), Staples repaired the boat.

Meanwhile he had candidly stated his desire to become a U.S. citizen. For this the immigration service ruled he was not a bona fide visitor and revoked his visitor's visa because he was a would-be immigrant. This made him an American soil illegally, which allowed a bill which was before Congress to grant citizenship to him and his family.

The immigration service agreed to let him sail the boat here for sale. He estimates it should bring $20,000.

He plans to go to Vancouver and await the arrival of his family from Honolulu. Then they can legally obtain another visitor's permit to come back.

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal health grants of $131,503 to Alberta institutions and $31,693 to British Columbia units were announced today by the health department.

In Alberta, the grants are: $80,337 to the provincial training school at Red Deer for a new infirmary; $29,666 to High River Municipal Hospital for a 25-bed extension; $80,000 to Hanna Municipal Hospital for renovations; and $4,500 to Turner Valley Municipal Hospital for a nurses' residence.

UPSTAGES EIFFEL TOWER

Obscuring the famed Eiffel Tower in background, the newest of Paris landmarks holds the attention of a passes-by. The strange work of art which moves in the wind is a mobile called "Modern Times" created by famed sculptor Alexander Calder for the UNESCO Palace in Paris.

Alec, Joanne Have Lot in Common

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — No one commented on it at the time but this year's two top Academy Award winners — Alec Guinness and Joanne Woodward — have a lot in common.

Guinness long has been known as a faceless actor or, paradoxically, the man with 1,000 faces. Joanne, who won an Oscar for 'The Three Faces of Eve', actually is the girl of 1,000 faces.

Friends and associates of the actress often pass her on the 20th Century-Fox lot and fail to speak simply because they fail to recognize her. And of hundreds of photographs of her filed away in the publicity department, there are few that look alike.

It's more than hair-dos, Joanne believes. It's something inside her. The movies' great box-office draws always have been definite personalities both on and off screen.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"Isn't that wonderful, darling. He thinks you're his mother!"

NEVER THE SAME

"But," says Joanne, "because I'm never the same, I have hopes of becoming a box-office draw. It anybody is going to come to see me, it's because they expect me to be a different character than the last time."

"I'm not a personality so unless I'm a character, I'm a nobody."

And that, she says, is why she went from the three different persons in The Three Faces of Eve to the southern floozie in No Down Payment to the frustrated spinster in The Long, Hot Summer to the busy-body housewife in Rolly Around the Flag, Boys.

In her next picture she will portray a girl 11 years younger than her real age of 28.

"I don't believe I have a personality of my own in any cinema sense of the word," she says. "I take on the coloring of people around me. When I was in England recently, I found myself speaking with a precise British accent within a week—and fooling the natives."

Opening lead — Jack of diamonds

the important items in any play is to put maximum on the defense on every opportunity mistake.

at this mean, let's De the diamond lead and trumps reveal.

So first let's suppose we hand West has a trump trick right at this point. He takes it and returns a diamond. Eventually, South loses a club trick and goes down one because the hearts don't break 3-3 and the jack doesn't drop.

Tomorrow: Selecting the right opening lead.

Canadians Learning to Laugh At Themselves Producer Says

By EDNA USHER

TORONTO (CP) — Canadians at last are learning to laugh at themselves, says a woman who will poke gentle fun at a few Canadian institutions in a new theatrical revue.

Araby Lockhart, the wife of playwright John Gray and mother of three toddlers, is producing a series of satirical sketches entitled Clap Hands, to be presented in Toronto later this month.

"Over the last 10 years Canadians have become more nationalistic," she says. "They recognize that Canadian products, people and places are as good as anywhere else, and they have."

thus become far less touchy over laughing about them."

Canada, too, is full of satirical writers, and obtaining revue material presents no problem to would-be producers, she said.

"Ideas and scripts just flood in, and much good-quality matter must be rejected to ensure a well-balanced program."

Producing a revue and raising a family at the same time presents its own particular problems.

"A baby-sitter looks after the children while I work, and I take special interest in their accounts of their activities to compensate people and places are as good as anywhere else, and they have Mrs. Gray."

FANNY IS PERFECT GUEST

Guest of honor at a surprise party for her 35th birthday, Fanny wolfs down her birthday cake, complete with 35 candles. Hosts Heather, Michael and Darrell Spellen also provided the old farm horse with raw cabbages and turnips. Owned by William Riley of Whitby, Ont. Fanny has long been a pet of neighboring children. After the party, Fanny returned the hospitality by taking each of the Spellen children for a ride around the barnyard.

Over-Protection From Traffic Harms Children

TORONTO (CP) — Over-protection from the hazards of traffic in school areas can harm the safety of children, Dr. Fred W. Jeffrey, chairman of the committee on child safety of the Ontario Medical Association, said today.

Mr. Jeffrey told a conference of 400 safety experts sponsored by the Ontario government that a Los Angeles study indicated that children were over-protected from traffic hazards in school areas, they could develop an attitude of carelessness that would make them less safety conscious in areas where there was no protection from traffic.

He told the road safety workshops: "It may be preferable to make children exercise a reasonable degree of caution in school areas so they will be better prepared when exposed to traffic hazards away from the school."

CUT TRAFFIC SPEED

"More traffic controls therefore may not produce a further reduction in urban accidents. The solution of this problem may rest with traffic and community planning engineers. They must find the means of reducing the number and speed of vehicles passing through populated areas."

"More main arteries may be necessary to divert traffic from the local streets."

He said that in the pre-school period parents should initiate a carefully planned educational program in traffic safety.

"How many mothers have taken their children to a busy intersection for a practical demonstration in the use of traffic lights? How many discussed with them the dangers of playing on the road or around parked cars, why they should walk rather than run when crossing the street or why they should walk facing traffic on open highways?"

Wednesday night, Dr. Walter A. Cutter, New York University safety expert, said:

"We must change somewhat the police attitude to motorists that is sometimes encountered."

"The police should not consider they are engaged in a vendetta with drivers. We must understand that if they are properly instructed and led, the great mass of people want to do the right thing."

Seafarers' Union Wins Pay Hike

VANCOUVER (CP) — Seafarers International Union has won pay increases of 25 per cent in new agreements with two coastal steamship operators, says Port Agent Norm Cunningham.

The companies, Union Steamships and Tidewater Shipping, signed the contracts, Mr. Cunningham advised Vancouver Labor Council.

He said the agreements were reached despite the stand of the CPR which refused to go higher than eight per cent more for seamen on its coast operations.

He said other shipowners had been "tied together, riding on the CPR's coattails."

The Union Steamships and Tidewater contracts met the 25 per cent "and other conditions" demanded by the SIU, Mr. Cunningham said.

Japanese Minister Leaves for Ottawa

By DAVID QUINTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Aichihiro Fujiyama, foreign minister of Japan, is to leave here tonight for talks at Ottawa with the Canadian government.

Mr. Fujiyama arrived in Vancouver Wednesday from Tokyo for a seven-day visit to Canada, his first, at the invitation of External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith.

The slight, grey-haired 61-year-old minister was hustled through customs after his Canadian Pacific Airlines Bristol Britannia touched down at International airport at 4:32 p.m.—31 minutes behind schedule because of strong winds over the Pacific during the 13-hour flight.

Before his arrival in Ottawa Sept. 7, he is scheduled to spend two days at the mountain resort of Banff, Alta.

He is to leave Ottawa for Washington Sept. 10 for talks with U.S. government leaders. On Sept. 15 he will go to New York to attend the United Nations General Assembly.

In a prepared statement, he said the object of his visit was to have talks with the Canadian government "on matters of mutual interest and concern" with a view to further strengthening "the bonds of friendship and understanding between our two countries on a basis of mutual trust and confidence."

Mr. Fujiyama, a keen amateur painter and golfer, appeared to be carrying none of the accoutrements of his hobbies. Although this is his first trip to Canada, he was last in the Pacific Northwest area in 1953 when he attended the Japan-America Pacific mayors' conference at Seattle.

Travelling with the minister were H. Mori, director of the American affairs bureau of the Japanese foreign ministry and his secretary, N. Nakajima.

GREETED AT AIRPORT
The party was greeted at the airport by P. V. McLeane, Western representative, department of trade and commerce for the Canadian government, Turo Hagiwara, Japanese ambassador to Canada, and the Japanese consul in Vancouver, Muneko Tanabe.

Speaking of British Columbia specifically, the minister said the province "has been traditionally the gateway to the Pacific for Canada and has had close relations, historical, geographical, social and otherwise, with my country."

He noted Japanese participation in B.C.'s centennial events at the international trade fair and visits by Japanese naval units during 1958.

Skippers Swim To Safety When Boats Founder

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two Vancouver fish boat skippers swam for their lives when their boats foundered in wind-whipped local waters.

Bill Kooyman, 35, owner of the gillnetter Silver Spray, and Karl Thomas of Langley, skipper of the gillnetter Miss Carla, were uninjured in the accidents.

High seas also caused a third boat owner to abandon ship. Archie Gardner and his son Birna, 11, used their lifeboat to row a half-mile to shore when waves forced Mr. Gardner's 32-foot pleasure boat Kasandra onto rocks off Point Grey.

Mr. Kooyman's 34-foot boat sprung a leak in the Strait of Georgia near Point Roberts. The owner dived from the wind-tossed, sinking vessel and swam about 50 yards to another fish boat in the vicinity, the gillnetter Royal Lady of Steveston.

Mr. Thomas' boat, owned by the Johnston Fishing and Packing Co. of New Westminster, went down off Point Grey after a high sea forced it onto rocks. Continued pounding started ripping out the 28-foot boat's bottom and Mr. Thomas, wearing a life-jacket, swam a quarter-mile to shore.

Both the fish boats are total losses. Mr. Gardner's pleasure boat suffered extensive deck damage.

Seeks Pensions Expert to Act As Mediator

VANCOUVER (CP)—A request that a pensions expert be appointed special mediator in the B.C. dock strike has been made to the federal government by the Shipping Federation of B.C. One of the issues is a union demand for a pension scheme.

The request is being opposed by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union whose leaders were asked by Labor Minister Michael Starr if they would be agreeable.

William Henderson, chairman of the union's negotiating committee, replied that the ILWU reaction was "distinctly negative."
